The students are identified by a liaison who is either a school social worker, a guidance counselor or an academic coach. They are the students who are most at risk of hunger: homeless children and families, households with children that have been abandoned by their parents, families with life-altering illnesses, families with recent unemployment and the working poor.

This program serves more than 400 at-risk students and families in a typical month. During the fiscal year ending June 30, 2024, more than 6,100 clients were served over 238,000 pounds of food and toiletries; more than 3,000 of those clients were children.

healthy food in low-income neighborhoods and food deserts. Locations include schools, the VA Clinic, churches, apartment complexes, extended stays, etc. - anywhere that people need help.

The greatest challenge client families have in receiving assistance from existing food pantries is transportation; many low-income families do not have vehicles, nor practical access to public transportation. As many as 65% of our client families have trouble making it to our existing 20 Neighborhood Pantry locations to pick up their groceries.

The MUST Mobile program improves the health and overall quality of life for families who are struggling to feed their families. When food is brought to an area closer to low-income neighborhoods, it eliminates transportation challenges as well as minimizes the commute and gas use. It also frees up grocery money that can be spent on other essential items such as shelter, utilities or other bills. This program is most helpful to the families under the greatest stress in food deserts.

During the fiscal year ending June 30, 2024, a total of 17,158 clients received more than one million pounds of food; toiletries were also distributed.
